This is an application under Section 439 CrPC for grant of interim bail of two months on behalf of accused Manu Wadhwa in case FIR No. 240/2018.

When it is put to the Ld. counsel for accused-applicant as to what is the ground raised for grant of interim bail, Ld. Counsel submits that interim being is being sought only on the ground to enable the accused-applicant make provisions for the sustenance of his unmarried sister. When it is put to the Ld. Counsel for the accused-applicant whether there is any other family member capable of taking care of the sister of the accused-applicant, at which, Ld. Counsel for accused-applicant submits that there is one another brother, however, he has no connection with the other siblings and has never taken care of the sister and even he does not live in Delhi and that the sister of the accused-applicant is living with some relatives. When it is put to the Ld. counsel for the accused-applicant as to what is the age of the sister of the accused-applicant, Ld. counsel submits that sister of the accused is a young girl somewhere in the age bracket of 25-26 years. It is submitted that parents of accused-applicant died long ago.

Heard.

Interim bail can alone be granted in compelling circumstances and in such extraordinary exigencies where personal presence of the accused would be absolutely indispensable. In the case in hand, however, the personal presence of the accused-applicant is not absolutely necessary as the sister of the accused-applicant is an adult though unmarried and financial hardship alone, being faced by the sister of the accused-applicant, is no ground for release of the accused-applicant on interim bail. Moreover, there is another brother of the accused-applicant who can take care of his sister. There are therefore, no compelling circumstances calling for release of the accused-applicant on interim bail in the present case. Interim bail application is accordingly dismissed.
